

YOUR VOICE MATTERS!

Share your experience by contributing an article to the Healthcare Science Leadership Journal.

The Editorial Board of the Healthcare Science Leadership Journal are looking for contributors for future editions of the journal.

This is a peer reviewed journal that reaches far and wide across the Healthcare Science community. This journal is a way to share your experience and leadership journey with fellow healthcare scientists and promote Healthcare Science and HCS leadership roles.

If you hold a leadership role, we encourage you to share your experience by submitting an article for the journal. This can inspire the next generation of leaders in Healthcare Science!
